

WOMEN ADVISED TO GIVE STUDY TO CONSTITUTION

R. G. Brown and Judge Israel Peres Give Educational Talks To New Voters At Citizenship School.

Women voters of Shelby county were urged to take the constitution of the United States as their political bible by two speakers at the opening session of the citizenship school, opened Monday afternoon, on the sixth floor of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce building, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters.

R. G. Brown, who spoke on "Why Do Women More Than Men Require Special Political Education?" recommended other things than the constitution, although he admitted that wonderful document first place, but Judge Israel H. Peres, whose subject was "Our National Constitution," confined himself very largely to that document, which he declared scholars had pronounced the greatest model of free republican government that now exists, ever did, or ever will exist.

Mr. Brown told the women that they needed more education in politics than men because they had just recently been enfranchised and that as people as a whole were never interested in theoretical matters, it was natural to assume that women in the past had not given the attention to politics which was necessary from a practical standpoint. It had become necessary, he said, for the women from this time forward, to inform themselves both as to the theoretical and practical workings of politics.

He said that it was not to be expected at the outset that women would concern themselves with running for office, except for such office as member of the school board, the juvenile court, and in American cities as have to do with the improvement of conditions surrounding women and children. Eventually, however, he said, they would be recognized in politics on a footing in every respect on an equality with men.

Should Prepare Selves.

To prepare themselves for this place in politics, the speaker advised the women to begin the study of political government at the very fundamentals, and to give the whole theory and practice of government a thorough study from the ground up. He suggested that they start by reading the compact entered into by the passengers on board the Mayflower just before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock; the constitution of the United States and the declaration of independence. These three documents, he said, were the foundation stones of American government. He suggested that his hearers read Bryce's "American Commonwealth," and inform themselves fully regarding the life of our government, a proper system of taxation. Regarding taxation, he said that the best authority on this subject was Henry George's "Progress and Poverty."

Judge Peres said he was confident of the ability of the constitution to protect the United States from all the vagaries of those who do not like this government, even though they make their home here, many of whom do not like any government, any place, any time. With this latter class, he said there was no need to argue, but that the rank and file of the citizenship must learn how powerful is the constitution to preserve at all times the rights and liberties of both property and person.

He said that most any government would do for good people, but in view of the frailties of human nature and the fact that we not only have not reached the millennium, but are many thousands of years away from anything approaching perfection, he was confident that the United States constitution was the best form of government under which the average man could live.

Constitution An Invention.

The constitution, he said, was an invention; no other similar form of government had been known to history until this document was promulgated. It was, he said, a wholly novel theory of federal government, discovered by Toqueville as "A great discovery in modern political science, which has produced most momentous consequences."

He said that the outstanding features of the constitution which rendered it unique as a governmental foundation, were five salient features. The lack of these features, he said, in large measure caused the failure of the Greek federations and democracies, and every other attempted democracy in history.

These features, he said, were:

- First, the independent power to tax.
- Second, divided into three departments: legislative, executive and judicial, these supported by the fourth pillar, the right of the people to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.
- Third, a federal legislature with two bodies.
- Fourth, a federal judiciary.
- Fifth, a constitution operating not on the several states as corporations, but directly upon the individuals.

At the second session of the school, to be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Congressman Hubert Fisher will speak on "Congress and Its Work," and E. B. Kiewer will discuss "National Defense, National Defense and the Monroe Doctrine."

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known, downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Many Americans At Bull Fight Opening

25,000 Attend First of Series at Mexico City.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—Twenty-five thousand persons, including several hundred trade excursionists from Houston and El Paso, Tex., witnessed a bull fight in Plaza Toros here Sunday. The exhibition marked the opening of an ambitious season, during which five of the world's best-known toreros will appear here.

Juan Silvetti, a Mexican, and Angel Fernandez (Angeles), a Spaniard, killed six bulls during the fight, which lasted an hour and a quarter. Both won enthusiastic applause by dispatching five bulls without a miss, although Angeletes narrowly escaped injury when he slipped and fell while playing the fourth bull.

Before the fight, the crowd celebrated the opening of the season by showering confetti over the arena. Officials whose influence made the exhibition possible received hearty applause.

The merry-makers were aided by a modification of Provisional President de la Huerta's recent order making Mexico City "dry" from Saturday night to Monday morning. Relaxation of the restrictions came after nearly 2,000 owners of cafes had gone before the court and asked for a writ of supersedeas, which had been granted, would have served as an injunction against official interference with normal business. Instead of granting writs, the judges designated scores of places in which drinks might be served.

Cured His RUPTURE.

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Poller, carpenter, 3509 Marcelus avenue, Manhattan, N. Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Are You Losing Your Grip on Health?

Physician's Prescription to Increase The Health and Strength of Anaemic, Run-down Men and Women

As a result of the tremendous strain of modern living so many people find that the nerve cells have become de-vitalized, the whole system weakened and thousands of men and women are today losing their grip on health simply because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving through lack of iron. It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life sustaining oxygen enters the body and enables the blood to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. If people would only keep their blood filled with strength-giving iron by taking Nuxated Iron when they feel weak and run-down they might readily build up their red blood corpuscles and quickly become stronger and healthier in every way. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test:

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength of weak, nervous, "run-down" men and women in two weeks' time in many instances. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is on sale at all good druggists.
